

Show your Support for Cleveland Rape Crisis Center

Cleveland Rape Crisis Center's Board of Directors has made the decision to postpone fundraising events for 2021. In lieu of event sponsors, the Center has launched a new initiative this year – 2021 Community Partners with Cleveland Rape Crisis Center.

Community Partners are recognized as individuals and corporations that support the Center's mission and specific impact areas through a significant contribution. Partners can choose to direct their donation to one or more impact areas and can enjoy a wide range of recognition opportunities depending on giving level.

2021 Impact Areas

- Crisis Services and Programming – More survivors are coming forward and accessing help than ever before. Support for crisis services and programming will allow CRCC to keep up with this demand.
- Child and Family Services – One in three of CRCC's clients are under the age of 18. The Center's comprehensive trauma-informed child and family services team works collaboratively with caregivers. Support for these services will help more children grow into healthy, strong and safe adults.
- Diversity, Equity and Inclusion – CRCC is committed to fostering partnerships and building community trust with those who are more at-risk for sexual violence and those who have been historically underserved. DEI support will help ensure every survivor can access help, regardless of age, gender identity, sexual orientation, race, income, ability or religion.
- Capital – Due to severe funding cuts in 2020, CRCC had to vacate its downtown office location despite the growing demand for services. The Center remains focused on reaching more survivors in more places, and capital support will assist these efforts.
